ProcureAbility™ transforms traditional, outdated consulting and staffing models by offering advisory and resource support on our clients’ terms.

We give our clients access to unbundled resources, plus the ability to selectively add value through leading-edge methodologies, the latest best practices, and specialized insight and advice—an approach unheard of in traditional consulting and staffing firms.

Since 1996 we’ve focused only on procurement’s success. It’s all we do.

How We’re Different

ProcureAbility flexes with your needs and opportunities with options that deliver maximum procurement ability. You get procurement solutions and resources how, when, and where you need them.

Our delivery model is unique, allowing for a wide range of flexibility:

- Strategic or Tactical
  Work with executive-level partners and advisor consultants who deliver a wide range of strategic procurement solutions, select tactical project support resources to help “get the job done,” or choose a combination of both.

- Scalable
  Select individual resources or complete project teams.

- Unbundled
  Add resources with or without project management, executive oversight, and access to Intellectual Capital (IC)—overhead typically required by traditional consulting firms. Design your own cost-effective solution.

- Value Added
  Access one of the deepest and broadest libraries of procurement and supply chain insights available—based on our 20+ years in the procurement space—including:
  - Leading-Edge Methodologies
  - The Latest Market Intelligence
  - Insightful Benchmarks
  - Proven and Emerging Best Practices

- Anywhere
  Specify remote or on-site support options, or a combination of each. We use leading-edge technology to work seamlessly with your organization the way you prefer.

“I’ve successfully worked with ProcureAbility experts for everything from large consulting projects to ad-hoc resource support. Their unique, scalable delivery model flexes with my needs to drive value.”

–Debbie Avila, CPO, LA Metro; former Director of Supply Chain Management, SCE
